OUR LITTLE GRANDCHILD

Cleansed, Purified and Beautified by the Cuticura Remedies.

It affords me pleasure to give you this report of the cure of our little grandchild by your CUTICURA REMEDIES. When six months old his left hand began to swell, and had every appearance of a large boil. We poulticed it, but all to no purpose. About five months after it became a running sore. Soon other sores formed. He then had two of them on each hand, and as his blood became more and more impure it took less time for them to break out. A sore came on the chin beneath the under lip which was very offensive. His head was one solid scab discharging a great deal. This was his condition at twenty two months old when I undertook the care of him, his mother having died when he was a little more than a year old, of consumption (scrofula, of course). He could walk a little but could not get up if he fell down, and could not move when in bed, having no use of his hands. I immediately commenced with the CUTICURA REMEDIES, using the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP freely and when he had taken one bottle of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT his head was completely cured, and he was improved in every way. We were very much encouraged and continued the use of the Remedies for a year and a half. One sore after another healed, a bony matter forming in each one of these five deep ones just before healing, which would finally grow loose and were taken out, then they would heal rapidly. One of these ugly bone formations I preserve. After taking a dozen and a half bottles he was completely cured, and is now, at the age of six years, a strong and healthy child. The scars on his hands must always remain; his hands are strong though we once feared he would never be able to use them. All that physicians did for him did him no good. All who saw the child before using the CUTICURA REMEDIES and see the child now consider it a wonderful cure. If the above facts are of any use to you, you are at liberty to use them. MRS E. S. DRIGGS.

The child was really in a worse condition than he appeared to his grandmother, who being with him every day, became accustomed to the disease.

Oregon River and Harbor Items Largely Increased.

THE SENATE COMMITTEE'S WORK

Special Notes of Interest to the Northwest—The Senate Passes a Number of Important Measures—A Reception

WASHINGTON, Feb 10—The senate committee on commerce to-day considered the claim of Oregon in connection with the river and harbor bill. The different items were taken up in order and passed upon. It is possible that a final revision such as is usually made by committees, will slightly change the results reached but this is doubtful. Following, which may be considered unofficial as they have not been formally submitted to the senate, are the increases made over the house appropriations

Mouth of the Columbia from $1[illegible]5 000 to $3[illegible]0 000
Cascades from $100 000 to $150 000
Yaquina from $50 000 to $80 000
Lower Willamette and Columbia rivers from $[illegible] to $80 000

It will be seen that the increase, including fifteen thousand for a boat railway is three hundred and fifteen thousand over the house bill. The total for Oregon rivers and harbors as passed by the house was three hundred and sixty five thousand. Mr Dolph's efforts to secure large appropriations were supplemented by those of two or three senators who have visited Oregon. Senator Gorman was the most outspoken of non resident senators for liberal appropriations. The exceptionally large increase for the mouth of the Columbia was secured largely through his influence. He holds that by far the largest single appropriation should be applied at this point.

When the item for a boat railway at the dalles was reached at Dolph's suggestion Mitchell was invited to appear before the committee and state his views on the measure. After he withdrew the committee authorized the Oregon senators to prepare such an amendment as they desired to submit for a survey of the dalles and for an appropriation therefor of $15,000, and promised that it should be incorporated in the bill.

The total amount appropriated last session for Oregon rivers was $596 [illegible]50

NORTHWEST NOTES.

The effect of Hermann's war of words with the postoffice department appears to-day in an order from the second assistant postmaster general to increase the mail service from Canyon City to Burns and from Lakeview to Summer Lake, via Paisley, to twice a week each. Proposals for a tri weekly service between Lakeview and Paisley will be asked for in the July lettings.

The house conference committee on the Northern Pacific forfeiture bill has not yet returned the duplicate engrossed copy to the senate conference committee. Dolph states that the day it is received he will submit the report of disagreement to the senate in order that further action may be ordered.

The commission appointed to examine the war claims of certain states and territories under the act of June 1882 have asked permission of the secretary of war to take up claims of Oregon, in conjunction with those of Texas, which they are now examining.

Advices received here from John McCafferty, whose appointment as collector of customs of Alaska was withdrawn by the president, state that in the event his nomination should be withdrawn or rejected by the senate he would wreak vengeance on those persons who opposed him. The letter was written before the nomination was withdrawn. Some letters received here state that of all persons of any standing in Alaska McCafferty is the most unfit. Other letters state that he is well qualified for the position. Among congressmen recommending him for the position are said to be Senator Kenna of West Virginia, Representative Collins of Mississippi, and Delegate Toole of Montana.

Frank Allyn of Iowa, one of the appointees to the judgeships in Washington territory, is in the city. He to-day paid his respects to the president.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON Feb 10—Jones of Nevada presented a petition from Horace F Cutter of San Francisco praying congress to make suitable acknowledgment of the humane services by Japanese fishermen to the crew of an American vessel wrecked by a typhoon in the Eastern seas, committee on foreign relations

Dolph from the conference committee on the senate amendments to the house bill to repeal all pre emption timber culture and desert land laws, reported disagreement, and asked for a new conference. He said in answer to a question by Ingalls that the differences in the conference committee were quite radical, but they might be overcome. The most important point was as to whether alleged fraudulent cases should be finally decided by the interior department or by the courts. The house conferrees took the ground that the interior department should be sole and final judge in the matter, whereas the senate conferrees insisted that a man whose title was attacked in the land office should have the right of appeal to the courts.

Plumb said he had been for many years in favor of the repeal of the pre emption laws, but since the subject has been in discussion a practice had come in vogue of a character which was not only threatening to individual rights but was subversive of all proper rules of procedure. He thought rectification of this practice was of much more importance than the repeal of the pre-emption laws or timber culture laws or both. He referred to proceedings by special agents, by detectives and private inquiries under which titles were set aside on ex parte hearings. This was going to an extent that was paralyzing business in certain sections of the West. He regarded longer continuance of this system as a shame and a disgrace. Titles to lands under these pre emption laws should be settled in the courts, whether they were the titles of the poor and humble settler on the frontier or of the rich or of anybody else.

Call defended the administration of the land office and said if it was such as represented by the senator from Kansas the proper remedy was to have an inquiry instituted and impeachment proceedings commenced.

After further discussion another conference was ordered.

Hale from the committee on naval affairs, reported back the bill for the purchase of John Ericsson's Destroyer and it was referred to the committee on appropriations.

On motion of Sewell the house bill to provide for the location and erection of a branch home for disabled volunteer soldiers west of the Rocky mountains appropriating $100 000 was taken up and amended by the adoption of a substitute appropriating $150 000 providing for ten instead of nine managers, one of them to be a resident of a state or territory west of the Rocky mountains and appointing James A Wagnire of San Francisco to serve as manager up to April 1892. The bill as thus amended was passed and a conference was asked.

The presiding officer presented resolutions of the joint committee of the general assembly of Indiana (republican members) protesting against the validity of the election of David Turpie as United States senator, referred to the committee on privileges and elections.

Also a message from the house of representatives with a substitute for the senate Chinese indemnity bill. Edmunds said the two bills appeared to amount to the same purpose except that perhaps the house substitute does it in a more simple way. He moved that the substitute be concurred in; agreed to.

The senate resumed consideration of the house bill relating to the importing and landing of mackerel caught during the spawning season. Miller moved to amend by making the bill take effect on July 1, instead of March 1888; rejected.

The bill was then passed—yeas 34, nays 11—the negative votes being Blackburn, Call, [illegible] Kenna, Miller, Saulsbury, Sewell, Vance, Van Wyck and Walthall.

A committee on conference was ordered and Senators Palmer, Gray and Hall were appointed.

The senate bills granting to the Spokane & Palouse Railway company and to the Washington & Idaho Railway company the right of way through the Coeur d'Alene Indian reservation in Idaho were passed.

The senate then resumed consideration of the Eads Tehuantepec bill and was addressed by Gibson in support of it. Hoar also spoke in favor of the bill but before he concluded his speech the senate adjourned.

HOUSE

WASHINGTON Feb 10—On motion of Payson of Illinois a bill was passed granting a right of way across the Fort Douglass military reservation in Utah to the Salt Lake and Fort Douglass Railroad company.

On motion of Thomas of Illinois Wednesday next was set aside for the delivery of eulogies upon the late Senator Logan.

The speaker announced the appointment of Hammond of Georgia, as one of the conferees on the anti Mormon bill in place of Tucker of Virginia.

On motion of Symes a senate bill was passed increasing to $[illegible] the cost of the [illegible] bill providing that in the general land office there shall be ten chiefs of division, who shall receive a salary of $2000 each.

Steele of Indiana moved to strike out the enacting clause. The republicans refrained from voting and left the house without a quorum in which condition it remained until the morning hour expired.

The house then went into committee of the whole on the consular and diplomatic appropriation bill. Belmont said the bill was an increase over the actual amount carried by the bill of last year of $1[illegible] 000 but increased collections to the treasury under it would at the lowest estimate, be $1[illegible] 000. The committee then rose and the house adjourned.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS.

RECEPTION BY THE PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON Feb 10—The president will hold a reception this evening in honor of the army, navy and marine corps. Mrs. Cleveland will be assisted in receiving by Mrs Manning, Mrs. Endicott and Mrs Vilas. Miss Rose Elizabeth Cleveland is expected to arrive in Washington this afternoon and will be a guest at the White house.

WASHINGTON Feb 10—The president's reception to the army and navy to-night was more largely attended than any of those which have preceded it. The state parlors and corridors were handsomely and elaborately decorated with tropical plants and smilax. The East room was a shifting panorama of gay costumes in an exquisite setting of handsome decorations and near the center of the East wall of the room was a bower of tropical plants reaching almost to the ceiling. On the other side and along the other walls, palms and potted plants were tastefully arranged. On the mantle wall of the room were placed small dark green plants facing banks of cut flowers. On the opposite mantles four large white and gold columns were twined around with smilax. Officers of the army and navy were present in large numbers and the diplomatic corps had numerous representatives. President and Mrs Cleveland were assisted in receiving by Mrs Manning, Mrs Endicott and Mrs Vilas while Miss Cleveland, Miss Van Vechten and a number of others occupied space immediately behind the receiving party. Mrs Cleveland was charmingly attired in a dress of pale blue silk.

STANFORD CALLS UPON THE PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, Feb 10—Senator Stanford returned to Washington from New York last night and called upon the president this morning. He told President Cleveland that he desired to be heard in relation to the appointment of the members of the interstate commerce commission before action had been decided upon. President Cleveland told Senator Stanford that he would be given an opportunity to express his views upon this subject before the nominations were made. In his interview with Senator Stanford the president gave no indication of his purpose to appoint any member from the Pacific coast. His idea is to select men who will administer the law according to the intent of congress with special reference to the localities from which the commissioners are chosen. The president desires to select men whose names will be a guarantee to the people of the intention to enforce the law in the spirit in which it was enacted. If the Pacific coast secures one of the commissioners it is now quite certain that the man will be a republican, as three of the commissioners to be appointed under the law will be Eastern democrats.

THE APPROPRIATION BILLS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Nineteen working days remain to the present congress and thirteen of the fourteen annual appropriation bills (including the river and harbor bill) are not yet ready to go to the president. Ten remain to be acted upon by the senate, nine require action of the senate committees and five have not passed the house, and two have yet to make their initial step from the house to committee. Added to these, last year's fortification bill yet lingers in conference.

THE ANTI POLYGAMY BILL.

WASHINGTON, Feb 10—The substitution of Hammond for Tucker as member of the conference committee on the anti polygamy bill will not, it is believed, cause any delay in the consideration of that measure. The conferrees will meet to-morrow, and the indications are that an agreement will then be reached on a bill similar in its principles and provision to that passed by the house

WASHINGTON NOTES

WASHINGTON Feb 10—The president sent the following nominations to the senate to-day: Indian agent at Belknap agency M T, Edwin C Fields of Maryland; Colorado river agency, Arizona, Geo W Bussey, of Illinois

The president has approved the army appropriation bill and the immediate transportation bill

REPORTED ADVERSELY

WASHINGTON, Feb 10—The judiciary committee of the house to-day reported adversely and without other comment than the recommendation that it do not pass, Representative Swinburne's bill for the erection of a United States prison for confinement of United States prisoners. All of the republican members of the committee however, united in a long minority report.

BAD FOR LOUISVILLE.

WASHINGTON Feb 10—Senator Aldrich from the committee on finance to-day reported adversely on a bill for the establishment of a sub-treasury at Louisville Ky. The report accompanying the bill says that the committee believe that no public interest will be advanced by the passage of the bill.

LARGE PAYMENT OF PENSIONS

WASHINGTON Feb 10—The commissioner of pensions has started a requisition for $18,780,000, with which to make payments of pensions due March 4 next. This will be the largest payment for current pensions made in any month in the history of the government

MANNING

District Assembly No 49 Decides to Order Out Several Thousand More Men.

NEW YORK Feb 10—An Evening News extra says district assembly No 49 put on an additional coat of war paint at its conference early this morning and ordered out everybody in the beer and other breweries in this city, Yonkers, Jersey City, Brooklyn, Staten Island, New York and Paterson, as well as members of the association of stationary engineers employed in the different factories within jurisdiction. The order is to go into effect to-morrow and it is estimated that the number of men who will stop work in the breweries alone will amount to 12 000. The number of [illegible] who will be thrown out by the strike of engineers will run far into the thousands. No exact [illegible] estimate can be formed at present but it is certain that if they do put a majority of the big breweries will have to close down. District assembly 49 claims that on the strength of assurances that arrangements were being made for arbitration of the coal troubles it rested on its oars and lost some ground. Now it intends to regain that ground and get some more members. The executive board of 49 say they have positive information that some of the coal companies are pressed for loans on national banks and believe with the arrangements they are making in connection with the stopping of work by employes of the breweries and the engineers that the demand for coal will grow so limited that the coal companies will be glad to come to terms. The ostensible reason for these strikes is that the breweries and other manufacturers are using scab coal

To a reporter a high official of 49 said this evening: "You can say that all stories that the strike was on the point of disrupting and coming to an end have been, through misunderstanding, manufactured of whole cloth. District 49 had simply ceased from pushing matters further, on an idea that the coal companies were about to have all differences settled by arbitration. We have been undecided on that point and now we intend to renew the battle with vengeance. Nor will the extension of the strike stop with measures to be carried out to-morrow. If necessary we shall call out the men in other lines. District 49 is now determined to fight the battle to the bitter end and instead of defeat we are more than ever confident of achieving success"

He added that the settlement with the Reading road had not yet been sanctioned by 49; that it was doubtless made with the understanding that Corbin was to get other companies to come to the same terms. He said it remained to be seen whether Corbin was acting in good faith and added that if he were not Reading men will stop work when called on

The news flew along the piers and wharves and strikers visible were unusually numerous and much more cheerful than they had been for some days. James E Quinn, master workman District assembly 49 and Victor Drury went to Boston last night. They are to confer with District assembly 30 of Massachusetts in relation to the strike. The Knights of Massachusetts may be called out wherever scab coal is used.

IN SESSION ALL EVENING

NEW YORK Feb 10—A sub committee of the executive board of district assembly 49 has been in session all evening. It is believed it is considering the advisability of extending the present strike to the brewers' employes and stationary engineers

THEY WILL GO OUT

NEW YORK Feb 11—1 A M—A member of the executive board of district assembly No 49 at 1 A M said that the brewers of this city and vicinity will go out on a strike to-day. Another member of the executive board however said the number of brewers was greatly exaggerated

"Will the engineers also go out?" was asked

"As far as I can understand the engineers will all go out for they will not handle scab coal."

The Debate in Parliament on Parnell's Amendment.

STRONG SPEECH BY HARTINGTON

The War Clouds in the East and between France and Germany—A Row between Boulanger and Flourens

LONDON Feb. 10—Redmond, nationalist, resumed the debate on Parnell's amendment this evening in the commons. He said he spoke as one soon to undergo, in company with John Dillon and others, a trial which would probably end with imprisonment for assisting in the operations of the plan of campaign. So far as the plan had been applied not more than twenty estates, up to date had been brought under its operation, and in no case was it proposed to deprive a landlord of rent but simply to enable tenants to bank their money for protection in cases where landlords refused to make a fair reduction. In every instance in which the plan had been tried landlords had found it advisable to make concessions mainly to the plan. This winter there were fewer evictions than for several years previous and almost a total absence of outrages.

A SPEECH BY HARTINGTON

The Marquis of Hartington said the plan of campaign was not the main question before the house. To vote for Parnell's amendment was to vote virtually a want of confidence in the government. Other questions, therefore could not be discussed on their merits but only with reference to the effect of the amendment on the fate of the government. Admitting that the relations between landlord and tenants in Ireland is far from satisfactory, it was no remedy to suspend or reduce, or abolish the payment of rents. Such a plan would be found no boon to poor tenants.

Continuing Hartington said the real remedies for the agrarian crisis would be found in providing larger productive employment for the people or voluntary emigration, conducted and supported by local authorities [cheers]. Still where landlords existed land laws must be enforced. It would never be possible to get rid of the ultimate result of evictions. The cause of the government in prosecuting the authors of the plan of campaign was right and straight forward. It was the duty of the government to attack men engaged in illegal conspiracy and prevent their leading astray tenants who were their dupes. Gladstone had declared that the plan of campaign had resulted from the policy of the government in refusing to adopt the suspension of evictions bill. Could parliament hold that as a legitimate consequence the rejection of any measure left the people morally entitled to take the law into their own hands, and do what parliament refused to do? [Cheers] If the plan of campaign were not illegal, if its enforcement were not stopped, there would be an end to all relations between landlord and tenant. This would cause internecine war and result in the total destruction of the power of landlord to obtain any rent except what the tenants chose to pay. Suppression of the plan was necessary, if order was to be preserved. Parnell has referred to a possible recurrence of dynamite outrages. He admitted that Parnell was not in a position to control dynamite crimes, but he was in a position to disown them. [Cheers] They were not disowned. Parnell contented himself with warning parliament if a certain course were pursued dynamiters might resume operations. As to home rule there remained a steadfast, solid barrier of one hundred votes against Gladstone's scheme. [Cheers] It was idle and useless for home rulers to present vague resolutions to the house on the ground that they had confidence in the Irish people, knowing they must secure the approval of the British nation.

OTHER SPEECHES

Viscount Kilcoursie liberal, supported the amendment although he said he knew a few cases in which the league induced tenants who were able to pay to refuse to settle with the landlords. He sympathized with the government in their difficulty, but regretted that they had shown less willingness to accede to the wishes of the Irish than the wishes of Scotch members. He did not blame the government for prosecuting Dillon but reminded the house of many instances where acts regarded illegal had become legal.

Samuel Storey, radical, said he could approve the plan of campaign but for a strange prejudice in favor of the decalogue. He denied that there was a likeness between the plan of campaign and trades-unionism, because many tenants able to pay rent were sustained in refusing payment. It was, he said, however, a plan to succeed. Further if parliament refused to act somebody must and if he had been an Irishman and seen helpless families cast out on the hillside he would have felt and acted like Dillon had. He appealed to the liberals to unite and carry the home rule movement to a triumphant conclusion.

Henry H Fowler liberal quoted precedents to justify the legitimacy of Parnell's amendment. He strongly condemned the jury system adopted in the Sligo trials and in the case of Dillon. The latter he said would be practically in the hands of the crown.

A GOVERNMENT WHIP

LONDON Feb 10—An urgent whip has been sent to all tory and liberal unionist members of the commons, summoning them to be on hand to vote against Parnell's amendment to the address in reply to the queen's speech.

POLITICAL NOTES

LONDON Feb 11—Parnell is drafting a bill to extend the benefits of the land act to glebe tenants and holders in town parks as well as lease holders.

No liberal whip has been issued for to-night's division on Parnell's amendment to the address.

THE WAR CLOUD

ROW BETWEEN BOULANGER AND FLOURENS

PARIS Feb 10—At a ball at the Elysee palace this evening a rumor was circulated that Gen. Boulanger's aide-de-camp had applied to the foreign office for a passport, on the ground that he was to bear a letter from Boulanger to the emperor of Russia; that M. Flourens, foreign minister, refused to grant the pass and that a violent scene took place between Gen Boulanger and M Flourens, the former explaining that the letter was not for the czar but for the Russian war minister and the latter that the communication must traverse the regular diplomatic channels. The aide-de-camp is still in Paris.

A dispatch from Strasburg to the Republique Francaise says that 600 Alsatians who were summoned to Germany as reserves have crossed into French territory dreading an outbreak of war.

NOTES FROM BERLIN

BERLIN Feb 10—The Berlin Post [illegible] have fallen flat. That paper now reproves the center party for its sinful pride in rebelling against the pope's decree.

The Germania says: "The pope has expressed a wish that our party support the septennate, but this is impossible."

The Vienna Neue Freie Presse says that in a recent interview a French statesman said France will not commence hostilities because of a belief, perhaps a superstition, existing throughout the country that the power which begins the next war will be defeated.

EXCITING ADVICES FROM ALGIERS

BERLIN Feb 10—Advices from Algiers published in the Kreuz Zeitung have caused much excitement here. The dispatches say a number of generals and staff officers have left Algeria to resume commands in France, that four Catholics, of the twelfth army corps stationed at Algiers have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness to embark and that preparations are being made at different ports to expedite shipments of troops. Territorial troops, the dispatches say, are to take the place of the batallions leaving Algeria.

GERMANY, FRANCE AND THE EAST

NEW YORK Feb 10—The Star's London cablegram says: Germany according to a dispatch from Berlin has asked France for a formal declaration of neutrality in the event of war in the East. In Downing street the statement is partly confirmed. The communication however was unofficial, and put in the way of a suggestion leading up to a friendly understanding between France and Germany. The whole situation points to the East as the probable first scene of warlike operations.

THEY EXPECT WAR.

LONDON Feb 10—It is reported that 2030 German officers entitled to retirement have asked to be kept in active service.

ITALY

NOTES FROM ROME

ROME Feb 10—The chamber of deputies approved the credit for construction of a cable telegraph from Perum at the entrance to the Red sea, to Massowah and adjourned sine die. This cable secures direct connection with the cable now in the Red sea, and places direct communication via Alexandria with the Italian forces in the Soudan.

King Humbert will to-morrow give a decision in respect to the ministerial crisis. It is expected that premier De Pretis will form a cabinet.

THE POPE EXPRESSES HIS VIEWS

ROME Feb 10—In consequence of recent speeches by leaders of the German center party the papal secretary sent another letter to the nuncio at Munich saying the pope in spite of the declarations of the center's leaders, maintains the views expressed in former letters.

MEXICO

CONSUL GENERAL PORCH ON THE WARPATH

CITY OF MEXICO Feb. 10—The Two Republics publishes the following: A telegram is published this morning from Washington that the name of E C Moore as United States consul general to this city has been sent to the senate. This confirms rumors of Consul General Porch's removal and further adds the downfall of another of Uncle Sam's servants for doing his plain duty. Porch was seen by a reporter and shown the telegram.

"Well," he said "I have been expecting this for some time though this is the first that I have heard of my successor's name having been actually sent in. But that some action of this kind would be taken I have known or at any rate supposed, for some days. The first positive information I had was two weeks ago. I then received a letter from Senators Vest and Cockrell saying that Secretary Bayard had told them he would remove me on account of my action on the occasion of Sedgwick's visit to this city."

"What are you going to do in the matter?"

"Fight to the bitter end. I have been unjustly, not to say outrageously dealt with and I don't propose calmly to submit. Secretary Bayard has heard one side of the story and has refused to listen to the other. Sedgwick had the secretary's ear of course and told him as he had told everybody else that the story of a debauch was an outrageous lie that I had lent my aid to formulate. I propose to right myself by publishing my side of the case. Everything in connection with the affair will be made public and Sedgwick will be shown up through the unimpeachable evidence of leading residents of Mexico—Americans and Mexicans."

GERMANY

NOTES FROM BERLIN

BERLIN Feb 10—Commander Chadwick and Lieut Buckingham of the American navy have arrived at Kiel to inspect the dock yards there.

The North German Gazette declares that the statement that the government incited publication of Cardinal Jacobini's dispatch is a pure invention.

The Prussian ministerial council has decided to postpone submission of the church bill to the landtag until after the reichstag elections. The extent of revision of the May laws depends upon the pliability of the center. A number of conservatives in the Oberhaus are not willing to consent to the return of religious orders and will require strong pressure and reasons to induce them to yield.

The imperial bank to-day placed for sale on the bourse treasury certificates to the amount of 30,000,000 marks.

NATIVES SEVERELY PUNISHED

BRISBANE Feb 10—The Queensland expedition which went to New Guinea to avenge the murder by natives last October at Johannes of Capt. Craig, two sailors and six Malays, in the ship Emily while engaged in pearl diving, has returned. The enterprise was entirely successful. The native chief responsible for the murder was caught and beheaded and the village where he and his accomplices lived burned.

THE PATTI SCARE.

People Still Trembling Over their Narrow Escape from a Panic

SAN FRANCISCO Feb 10—The indignation and excitement over last night's act has to-day, to a great extent given place in the public mind to wonderment at the extraordinary avoidance of a panic. This appears to be the more remarkable the more the situation is examined. We have city ordinances which prohibit the filling up of an aisle in places of public amusements, but when it suits the object of any person to ignore these laws there is nothing apparently to prevent them. This is done with the greatest impunity every time any great attraction appears at one of our theaters. Every time Patti has appeared here there has been the grossest violation of this law, and a number of other petty annoyances and outrages were permitted here last season, which ended so sensationally. Last night was no exception to this rule. Chief of Police Crowley had duly warned Manager Abbey not to allow the aisles to become blockaded and as an additional precaution that no violation should occur a number of policemen were stationed at the Grand opera house. Some potent influence, however, blinded them to the condition of affairs. Every aisle in the theater was filled with women as well as with the sterner sex. The former, however soon became tired of standing and sat down in the aisles and gave the cue to all similarly situated to do likewise.

This allowing the house to be filled with people after every legitimate bit of space had already been paid for and occupied showed such grasping propensities of the management at the expense of the comfort, enjoyment and safety of the legitimate auditors that it was certainly not less than criminal. That it was uncomfortable was clearly demonstrated by the actions of those compelled to stand up and convey their discomfort to those seated over them. By pushing and jostling amongst themselves considerable bad feeling was aroused last night and soon produced scenes in the upper part of the house that were a fitting prelude to the act which capped the climax of the evening. A large number of hoodlums were allowed by the indiscriminate plan of admission permitted by the manager [illegible] to gain access to the gallery, and [illegible] made their presence conspicuous by noisy observations. During the overture the noise in the gallery increased and the final strains of the orchestra were lost in a babel of voices.

THE CRANK HAD NO PLAN

SAN FRANCISCO Feb 10—All the papers to-day [illegible] accounts of the explosion of a can of [illegible] at the Patti concert last night. Later in[illegible] shows that the crank Dr Hodges who [illegible] had evidently no distinct purpose in view, [illegible] only wanted to create a disturbance. The excitement has now mostly [illegible] which [illegible] to so little damage resulting and has given place to astonishment that [illegible] panic was averted. The house was crowded to its utmost capacity and every aisle was also filled with spectators. A fortunate circumstance, and one which no doubt contributed to some extent to prevent a stampede was that the explosion occurred when the applause was most vociferous and partially deadened the sound of the explosion. Had the spectators lost their heads and a rush been made for the doors there is little doubt that many would now be mourning for their dead.

The Oregonian.

PORTLAND, FRIDAY FEBRUARY 11, 1887.

THE VETO NOTWITHSTANDING.

Profoundly believing that obtainment of authority from the legislature to construct the proposed railroad bridge at Portland is a matter of very great importance, THE OREGONIAN cannot refrain from expressing a hope that the bill therefor will be passed over the veto

Nor is this bridge a matter of importance to Portland alone It concerns the state at large, in equal degree It presents itself as a great step towards the introduction of new forces and new activities into our state Construction of this bridge will mean the beginning of a new movement which will put fresh life into Oregon

Construction of this bridge and consolidation of the O R & N with the Oregon Short Line are two parts of a single plan One is the necessary complement of the other The two together will put in motion a train of activities that will diffuse their forces very widely over the state. Just now the consummation of this double plan presents itself as the one thing most necessary to awaken the country from its long and deep sleep, and to make it stir with renewed signs of life. Has not its night been long enough and its sleep deep enough? Is anything ever to be done in Oregon Then why not now?

It is of great importance to the whole state that its principal railroads should be able to get into Portland at a common terminal depot It means quicker movement in transportation, both of freight and passengers it means saving of time, which is money It means saving of money itself, through creation of facilities that will give dispatch to business In all this it means just as much to the state at large as it means to Portland.

As a necessary adjunct of the great terminal works proposed at Portland, this measure is of immense importance, since construction of these works depends on the erection of this bridge. But over and above all this, the bridge is indispensable to Oregon as a means of creating facilities here and of uniting interests here which shall be sufficiently complete and powerful to match the efforts which the Northern Pacific will undoubtedly make at once, upon completion of its line over the Cascade mountains, to divert the business of the Eastern Empire from Oregon and transfer it to Puget sound.

The state of Oregon undoubtedly wants within her own borders a city which shall be her center of business, population, industry, commerce and wealth, and which also shall be powerful enough to exert a commanding influence in the business of the whole Northwest Portland as yet holds that place, but to make the metropolis of Oregon secure in it no necessary facilities for doing business here must be denied We should attach to the interests of Oregon the interests of a transcontinental railway, powerful enough to compete with the roads north and south of us, and able to protect and promote the development of Oregon, induced thereto by the necessity of protecting and promoting its own interests. Of this great scheme the bridge and the lease are component parts They signify concentration here of forces and energies sufficiently powerful to push Oregon onward, and to maintain the primacy of her metropolis as against the efforts of those who will soon be in position to push a contest against it We do not assert that without these added facilities this contest can not be met, but we do say that these facilities must be added, if the highest success is to be achieved

The argument that the bridge at the proposed point will be dangerous to shipping interests is wholly untenable An irresistible law of business has already moved ocean shipping down the river to docks below the site of the proposed bridge, and the tendency all the time is more and more in that direction Let it be noted, as Capt Henry L Hoyt shows, that not one vessel of the ninety three that constituted the grain fleet of the past year has taken cargo above the site of this proposed bridge. Here is a fact that puts in an overwhelming answer to the governor's objections Yet certainly vessels that want to go to the upper part of the city, if they can get through the bridge built obliquely across the stream at Morrison street, and with much narrower openings than those to be required for the railroad bridge, need apprehend no difficulty from the latter, built directly across the stream and with wider draw.

Once more THE OREGONIAN urges the legislature to authorize this bridge The act will set in motion a train of causes and results that once more will put some life into the sluggish blood of the country. Surely we are all tired of seeing each other and every one here sitting like our gandsires cut in alabaster!

THE REPORT ON SWAMP LANDS.

No new light on the great features of the swamp land swindle was expected from the labors of the legislative committee, for the prominent facts have long been known, and no further light could be thrown on them. But the work of the committee, of whose report we printed an advance copy yesterday is important and useful, it presents, once more, the principal features of this piece of gross maladministration, and correlates with them many subordinate facts. As THE OREGONIAN has been showing for years past, and as Gov Pennoyer pointed out in his recent special message, the principal abuses for which a remedy is now sought had their origin in violation of the law of 1878 The rule laid down by Gov Thayer in the Owen Ish case was indeed only a continuance of the policy which the state board had pursued from the first enactment in regard to swamp lands but this rule was continued in the face of the law of 1878 and in direct violation of it, and supported by Gov Thayer's opinion in the contest between Owen and Ish, it was [illegible] to and followed throughout his own and the Moody administrations. The opinion, indeed, was not rendered in writing till [illegible] but [illegible] it was as soon as it was really needed to [illegible] support to the schemes of the swamp land ring.

The contention [illegible] has been maintained so long by The Oregonian is fully sustained by the report. "There is nothing in [illegible] to the meaning or intent [illegible] entitled [illegible] as to the intent of the legislature which passed it, for undoubtedly it means that all applications for the purchase of swamp and overflowed lands which had not been regularly made, and those that, having been regularly made, the 20 per cent. was not paid upon until after the 17th of January, 1879, are void and of no force or effect whatever."

Exposure of the utterly fraudulent pretence of some of the land grabbers as to "reclamation" of the lands which they were endeavoring to hold upon loose, indeterminate and illegal filings, is part of the proper work of this report And it is done very effectively The claimants cut wild grass in places, let their cattle and horses run upon the land, and called this "reclamation" and "cultivation"

But it would be rash to say that the claimants have acted in defiance of law to a greater degree than the state board itself has done. For besides the violations of law committed by the board in allowing claimants to come in and pay twenty per centum on their fraudulent filings, after repeal of the law of 1878, the board "has issued deeds and certificates to lands which have not been formally approved to the state by the secretary of the interior, and to which the state has not a show of title." There could be no more melancholy instance of maladministration than this swamp-land business affords. What the legislature should do, and do at once, is to pass an act directing a cleaning up of the whole dirty business, in accord with the suggestions of the committee and the special message of the governor.

B. Coffey, Indian agent at Umatilla, notwithstanding the strong effort made against him, by which his nomination was "hung up" for several months, gets his confirmation from the senate at last. But whether the spiritual embargo has yet been raised or not, or whether it is likely to be raised or not, there is as yet no public information

Gov. Pennoyer wants a free foot bridge for "the poor man." A free bridge is often an excellent thing, and a state, county or municipality frequently constructs them. But individuals or corporations don't build costly free bridges, any more than other individuals or corporations furnish lumber or flour free. It may help, however, to the interpretation of this little bit of pathetic gubernatorial demagogy to remark that his excellency plainly doesn't care so much which side of the river "the poor man" is on as he cares about the poor man's vote.

THE FUTURE HARBOR

The governor says "The bridge at Morrison street has virtually destroyed about a mile of one of the finest harbors in the world" We suspect exaggeration here But granting the statement correct, the proposed railroad bridge wouldn't worsen matters much, since there is no "harbor" between Morrison street and I street, but only a channel, and one never sees ships anchored therein.

The whole river in front of Portland is little more than a channel the harbor of Portland is yet to be made. It will be made, as the needs of shipping demand, by excavation of the flats above the city, below the city and opposite the city No doubt the principal harbor will be where Couch's lake and Guild's lake now are Dredging will do the work easily and expeditiously, as soon as there is call for more room, and gates will open from the river channel into slips, where vessels will lie at docks. This is the future of the "harbor of Portland" and bridges, here and there over the river will make little difference or change in the result

Of course, however, every bridge ought to be built directly across the stream, not obliquely across it, and every bridge ought to have sufficient openings

THE VOICE OF PORTLAND

To the railroad bridge bill THE OREGONIAN hears no objection whatever from any citizen of Portland, save Gov Pennoyer. Owners of property along the river above and below the site of the proposed bridge, so far as THE OREGONIAN has been able to ascertain, not only make no opposition to the bridge, but expressly declare that the interests of the city and state require its construction

The people of Portland and of East Portland actual residents, who have built these cities and have their interests here, with scarcely an exception, want this bridge built. They are well satisfied that they know what their own interests require, at least as well as the non resident gentlemen of the army whom Gov Pennoyer has consulted and by whom he has been guided

Certainly the people of Portland and of East Portland, if they supposed that all or any considerable part of the consequences so gloomily predicted by the governor and by the engineers would follow upon construction of the bridge, wouldn't want it constructed But they don't think so It was once predicted by men as wise as any of these that the building and use of railroads would ruin the horse market.

It was said of Pitt, by a great writer "The secretary stood alone. Modern degeneracy had not reached him" In Portland, on the bridge question, Gov Pennoyer resembles Pitt in one of those respects at least. He stands alone

What we call "A Decisive Answer to the governor" on the bridge question is furnished by the letter of Mr H L Hoyt, printed to-day Against such facts the governor's objections to the bridge become mere empty declamation

An opening of 150 feet in a bridge is not as wide as a wider opening would be, but it is as wide as much of the deep channel below Portland, including that at the mouth of the Willamette river

THE INTERNATIONAL RANGE CONVENTION

DENVER Feb 10—A resolution was adopted in the international range convention to-day setting forth that Colman commissioner of the agricultural department had done everything possible, under the laws of the United States, to protect the cattle of the country from pleuro pneumonia and extending thanks from the association to him for his action in the matter

The proposition of Mr Gillan of Cleveland Ohio for pooling the cattle interests of the range country and forming a stock company of $100 000 000 to carry on this project, was referred to a board of directors.

A resolution stating that false reports have been circulated concerning the financial condition of the range cattle business representing that the business was bankrupt and resolving that the convention deny the report and state that the range cattle business is in a reasonably healthy condition, with prospects of improvement was adopted, after a hearty endorsement from all delegations

The convention then re-elected Col. R. G. Head of Colorado president J L Brush first vice-president J C Leary of New Mexico secretary J A Cooper of Denver treasurer, and an executive board. Adjourned sine die

A BRITISH STEAMER SUNK IN A COLLISION

NEW YORK Feb 10—The British steamer Wells City collided with the steamer Lone Star of the Morgan line this morning and sunk in the Hudson river The Lone Star, much damaged, made her way to her landing at pier 37 and was laid up there The officers and crew of the sinking steamer were rescued and taken ashore

The Wells City had anchored in the stream at the foot of West Twenty Sixth street Between 3 and 4 this morning an immense ice floe came down with the outgoing tide and caught her She did not have steam up, and was carried down the river dragging her anchor for more than a mile and a half resisting all efforts to stop her Opposite Christopher street the steamer Lone Star was anchored The Wells City drifted broadside upon her bow and was struck by the cutwater of the Lone Star, knocking a hole in her hull. The crew of twenty three men and the captain took to the boats before the steamer sank She was valued at $150 000 and her cargo consisting of block tin, was valued at $140 000 She will be raised

A MICHIGAN TOWN FLOODED

LYONS Mich Feb 10—Lyons is a sea of ice The Grand river rose during the night about four feet and an ice gorge formed just below the city and the whole business part of town is under water Great damage is sustained The losses will reach into the thousands Several families have been driven out of their dwellings and others have taken to upper stories The ice gorge covers an area of 400 acres and is estimated to be twenty feet thick in places All mails are shut off from the north and west

WANAMAKER BUYS "CHRIST BEFORE PILATE"

NEW YORK Feb 10—A Philadelphia dispatch says C Zedelmeyer who represents M Munkacsy in the sale of his pictures said to-day Munkacsy's great picture of Christ before Pilate will remain in the United States There have been offers from different parties during the last week one from a well known art amateur in the West and another from John Wanamaker of Philadelphia The latter purchased it from me at the highest price ever paid for a modern painting"

NO EVIDENCES OF A STRIKE

NEW YORK Feb 10—Along the river fronts today there was no indication that any difficulty existed between the 'longshoremen and the railroad and steamship lines At the railroad piers the loading of cars on big floats was being carried on with regularity, and at the docks of coastwise and Southern port steamship companies all evidences of the recent struggle were obliterated

AN HISTORICAL HEARSE BURNED

ST LOUIS Mo, Feb 10—Besides the pecuniary loss which resulted last night from the destruction of Jesse Arnot's livery stable one loss was suffered which is irreparable. The hearse in which the remains of Abraham Lincoln were conveyed to their last resting place was consumed in the flames.

How to Secure Health.

SCOVILL'S SARSAPARILLA AND STILLINGIA OR BLOOD AND LIVER SYRUP will restore perfect health to the physical organization. It is, indeed, a strengthening syrup, pleasant to take, and has often proven itself to be the best Blood Purifier ever discovered, effectually curing Scrofula, Syphilitic Disorders, Weakness of the Kidneys, Erysipelas, Malaria, all Nervous Disorders and Debility, Bilious Complaints, and all diseases indicating an impure condition of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, Stomach, etc. It corrects indigestion, especially when the complaint is of an exhaustive nature, having a tendency to lessen the vigor of the brain and nervous system.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Great Interest Taken in the Bridge Bill's Fate.

SIMON IN A VERY TIGHT PLACE

The Portland Water Bill in Great Danger—The Lease Bills—Swamp Lands—The Reapportionment Fight.

SALEM Feb 10.—The governor's veto of the Portland bridge bill will come up for consideration, under special order at 10 o'clock to-morrow and the chief interest in the lobby to-night is with reference to it The crowd of Portland people here to urge the passage of the bill over the veto was increased this evening by the arrival of Messrs Sol Hirsch D P Thompson, John McCraken J P O Lownsdale J C Meussdoffer F Alisky J B G Hughes C B Bellinger P C Schuyler Henry J Gorbett William M Ladd C W Knowles J N Teal and others All are enthusiastic in support of the measure and are doing effective work. Their presence alone is doing much to counteract the effort being made by the governor to whip in the democrats as a body to his support If what is currently reported is true and I have no reason to doubt it the governor has far overstepped the bounds of propriety in his efforts both for party and personal support

By one of the singular turns in legislative conduct common under the system of swap and barter the bridge question has become involved with the reapportionment question. It happened thus: The committee on reapportionment decided to give Josephine a senator jointly with Jackson This was not agreeable to Senator Miller of Josephine as the large democratic majority of Jackson would overcome the small republican majority in Josephine and make the joint senator a democrat Miller urged his case so persistently in the republican caucus last night that it was decided to alter the arrangement by giving Josephine a joint senator with Douglas and Lane, it being a part of the plan to take away a senator from Lane county This scheme while satisfactory to Josephine, was severe upon Lane, and a positive loss of two senators to the democrats In caucus Simon opposed the changes but was chosen nevertheless to manage the matter on the floor of the house The apportionment bill came up this evening when the democrats under the lead of Weatherford declined positively to permit final action upon it in the senate until after disposition of the Portland bridge bill The situation scarcely needs to be explained since it is well known that the bridge bill is the one particular measure near and dear to Simon The democrats simply had the thumb screws on him If he chose to force his reapportionment scheme then they would vote to sustain the governor's veto The alternative was plain and Simon made haste to adopt it with drawing the caucus amendment to the reapportionment bill and consenting to a special order for the reapportionment bill at a later hour to-morrow than that fixed for consideration of the governor's veto. This action indicates an understanding with the democrats on the bridge bill, but this cannot be known, since it is now as always part of Simon's policy to keep his affairs closely to himself It is the general opinion that the bridge bill will pass over the veto to-morrow but there is a good deal of nervousness among its friends due to the fact that no possible effort has been spared to make the democrats vote with the governor.

THE WATER BILL

The governor's veto of the Portland water bill came up this morning in the house under special order A motion to reconsider the vote by which it passed originally was carried and further consideration postponed until 10 o'clock to-morrow Thus the bill will come up for passage over the veto and it must have forty votes or fail I am forced to the conviction that the bill is practically killed It has hardly a fighting chance The objection to it is that the proposed bonds are exempted from taxation. Remove this objection and the bill would pass by a large vote The governor's message, which was written artfully to sustain and encourage the prejudices of the country members had great effect It is the common opinion to-night that most of the democrats if not all will stand with the governor on this question. It will be useless for Summers to offer his amendments outlined in this correspondence last week, since they did not cover the serious points of the objection but I do not know what he intends to do

THE LEASE BILLS.

The O R & N lease bills, which passed the house yesterday had not reached the governor this evening Speaking of it in general terms he said to me to-night that he thought the failure to require from the company acquiring the lease a resident officer, upon whom legal service could be had, a most serious one He said also that in his judgment the provision holding the company to jurisdiction of state courts would not stand before general law These criticisms coming from a man less variable than Pennoyer would indicate that the bill was doomed to executive veto, but I am disposed to think that it will not come to this in this case

SWAMP LANDS

The house committee on public lands of which McLean is chairman, reported to-day, under the house resolution which directed it to report on the general work of the land office The following brief summary presents some of the information collected (1) Amount of land patented as swamp land 3 131 109 acres (2) Amount certified to by the interior department as property belonging to the state 3 704 664 acres (3) Amount examined by the joint commission, reported as swamp land but not certified as such in Washington, 3,084 684 acres Besides this amount 139 000 acres were examined, but the lists are not to be found. (4) The amount of swamp land not yet examined, as near as may be ascertained, will foot up 750 000 acres (5) The method followed in the selection of swamp lands is discussed. (6) The area on which the 20 per cent was paid prior to January 17 1879, is 255,744 acres and since that date on 5[illegible] acres A full discussion of the Thayer decision is given in this connection (7) Full payment has been made on 31 [illegible] acres In connection with these deeds the committee takes ground in favor of detecting and punishing all who make false affidavits, some of which have doubtless been filed in reclamation proof (8) The total amount received from sales of swamp lands is $[illegible]152 53 (9) The amount due on sales already made is $58 [illegible] 10 The defects of the present system lie in the law which should be changed (A) by abolishing reclamation as a condition of sale (B) by selling the land [illegible] appraised value rather than [illegible] (C) call outstanding interest bearing warrants should be paid from this money in the general fund (D) limitation of the amount to be sold to one person to 640 acres and require actual settlement (E) payments to be made one third down and the remainder drawing interest in five years (F) compel the payment of the 80 per cent still due on sales made hitherto, payment to be completed within two years (G) reopen to settlement tracts forfeited and now unlawfully held

Daly's bill for the purchase of the locks at Oregon City was the subject of a long debate in the house this afternoon Daly urged it as [illegible] directly in the interests of the producers of the Willamette valley and indirectly in the interest of the whole state McLean called the proposition a job and spoke his views in this way by [illegible] Harrington favors the bill on the general ground that it would make cheap transportation. Jaunsen moved to lay the matter over till to-morrow and when this was voted down declared that in his opinion this bill was a scheme of the O R & N Co to unload upon the state an unprofitable property Hale took the same view Benjamin and Richardson declared that they were not fully informed on the subject but thought it wise to vote no Haley supported the bill declaring that it would save to the producer 1½ cents on every bushel of grain grown in the Willamette valley, and a proportionate sum on other freights Johnson favored the bill because he said, We in Eastern Oregon feel and know the curse of an obstructed river" McLean said that when a few thousand dollars was asked for a bridge in southern eastern Oregon the very men who were now voting for this gigantic local scheme were loud to oppose local legislation as unconstitutional Thompson of Lane and Taylor of Union opposed the bill and thought the state had better wait Bilyeu of Lane supported it as also did La Follett of Marion On roll call the bill lacked three of a majority Those voting for it were Bilyeu Biggs Crook Culver Davis Daly Gard, Gay Holland, Harrington, Holmes Haley Johnson Kruz Lockett Lafollett of Marion Loman Maver Maxwell Mitchell, Munger Noyers Pomeroy Pendleton Roberts, Summers Wilcox and Gregg—38 Those absent were Crockett Goodsell Hale and Mackay It is understood to-night that a reconsideration has been arranged for to-morrow.

UMATILLA COUNTY STANDS

In the senate this morning most of the time was consumed on the bill creating Lee county from Umatilla There was a large lobby favoring its passage and it had the advantage of a favorable report from the committee on counties. Warren opposed the bill strongly and managed to kill it In the evening session Dawson gave notice of his intention to move for a reconsideration of the bill, and the matter will come up to-morrow The contest is regarded as settled, however, and all parties pledged good will in a supper at Strube's restaurant tonight. The entertainment was given by Messrs. J. H. Roley and W F. Matlock, and about fifty persons were present.

SUIT FOR EIGHT MILLIONS.

Charges of Wholesale Robbery against Directors of a Railroad Company.

COLUMBUS Ohio Feb 10—President John T Shaw of the Columbus, Hocking Valley & Toledo railroad to-day sued Stevenson Burk, M M Green Charles Hickox, Wm McKinnie Chauncey Andrews John W Ellis and the Ohio Central railroad company and Judge Bingham granted an injunction restraining the defendants from selling their stock and to compel them to account for their indebtedness to the company for both stock and lands

The petition recites that prior to the consolidation of these roads in 1881 their combined capital was $5 [illegible] the individual defendants also owning [illegible] acres of coal lands, that prior to July 1881 defendants and others entered into a fraudulent combination to possess the three roads [illegible] [illegible] and to dispose of [illegible] prices enormously above their value by threatening to build parallel lines They secured the three roads—the Hocking Valley at [illegible] per share the Columbus & Toledo at $[illegible] 50 and the Western Virginia at $[illegible] and immediately consolidated with a capital of $[illegible] 000. Defendants [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] authorized $14 000 000 in bonds [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] New York [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] On November [illegible] 1881 [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] were turned over to Stevenson Burk without [illegible] of purpose [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] $2 611 000 of these bonds [illegible] Winslow Lanier & Co [illegible] commissions was [illegible] [illegible] The board directed President Green [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] executive committee consisting of Green Burke Hickox and McKinnie [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] took the receipt of the committee for the whole and having possession of the proceeds of all the bonds sold and also of the unsold bonds they paid the advances made for the stock of the three companies and exchanges for consolidated stock taken in their names thus appropriating the entire stock for not a dollar of which have they accounted to plaintiff

That money due the money advanced by Winslow Lanier & Co and Drexel Morgan & Co for the purchase of the three roads was repaid out of the proceeds of the consolidated bonds defendants thus getting possession of plaintiff's stock with out paying a single dollar for it.

That defendants further to divest plaintiff of said $8 000 000 of bonds, and thus secure title as well as bonds on August 11 1883 as directors authorized President M M Green to purchase the entire stock of the Hocking Coal & Railroad Co for $[illegible] 000, 000 in bonds of plaintiff's and not exceeding $800 000 in value and said purchase of the bonds in fact not being in the treasury and it is declaring dividends to themselves June 1 1887 of 11½ per cent the only asset it is still [illegible] 000 of the Hocking Coal & Railroad company stock on which defendants now admit that the company still owes $7 [illegible] 000.

Plaintiff further sets forth that the stock exchanged for the purchase of the Toledo & Ohio Central is that there are outstanding three shares of the original Columbus & Hocking Valley stock held by persons not cognizant of the unlawful acts of defendants.

The very voluminous petition is sworn to by John W Shaw The case involves $8 000 000

THE PACIFIC MAIL AND PANAMA COMPROMISE

NEW YORK Feb 10—The adjourned conference between representatives of the Pacific Mail Steamship company and the Panama railroad company to agree on a settlement of differences was held this morning President Houston and Director Edward Lauterbach represented the Pacific Mail and Messrs Seligman McCullough [illegible] and D. Costa the Panama railroad The compromise proposed yesterday was agreed to by both companies It provides for settlement of the outstanding claim of the Panama railroad of $[illegible]30 000 by payment of $160 000 In lieu of monthly payments of $[illegible] 000 for transportation across the isthmus heretofore charged the Pacific Mail by the Panama company there will be paid $[illegible] 000 per month and the Pacific Mail company is allowed to reduce its service in any way it chooses, instead of being compelled to run a steamer every week, as was provided under the terms of the old contract This provision alone will save the Pacific Mail $50 000 per month The saving on the other items for the unexpired seven years of the old agreement, which the new contract takes the place of, amounts to over $1 000 000,

Pacific Mail directors after the meeting stated that negotiations for a subsidy from the transcontinental lines are being considered One of them predicted an advance in rates before the end of this week

A RAILROAD TO BE SOLD

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb 10—A decree of foreclosure was entered by the federal circuit court this afternoon in the cross complaint of the Central Trust company of New York against the Indianapolis Bloomington & Western Railway company eastern division. The road is now mortgaged for $3 [illegible] on the western division and for a total of $5 [illegible] 000 of which $1 500 000 is on a second mortgage The road is to be sold in accordance with the agreement of reorganization entered into in the interest of the bondholders. The total capitalization is $10,000 000 and over $9 500,000 is represented in the reorganization proposed The court directs that Commissioner in Chancery Fishback advertise the property for thirty days and sell to the highest bidder Bidders are required to make a deposit of $100 000, and no bid for less than $3, [illegible] 000 for the entire property will be entertained The sale will take place at the federal building, in this city

UNION PACIFIC EARNINGS

BOSTON, Feb 10 The annual statement of the Union Pacific railroad shows earnings for the year of $26,[illegible] expenses $16 553 109 surplus $10 [illegible] taxes $1 [illegible] 510 net earnings $8 935 178 This shows an increase of $515 451 in taxes and a decrease of $2 692,[illegible] in net earnings, compared with 1885

WROUGHT IRON PIPE

TACOMA W T [illegible]

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN [illegible]

[illegible]

Calculated to deliver 27 000 000 gallons [illegible] Fellow citizens don't you think [illegible] before this proposed pipe wears out

In the published proceedings of the water committee of February 1 we find a few more words of comfort stated in relation to a recent sub-committee proceeding. At a meeting in the [illegible] Engineer Smith reported that the service on Morrison street was due to a wood pipe on [illegible] street, north of Morrison. It was of wrought [illegible] and would not stand the pressure from the [illegible] street reservoir The pipe would have to be re[illegible] with cast iron As near as I can recollect [illegible] pipe has been in use about sixteen years [illegible] seven inches in diameter and at the present [illegible] will not stand a vertical pressure of eighty or [illegible] feet. Now gentlemen we do not want any wrought iron pressure pipe where it can be avoided [illegible] think you can see that it is not necessary [illegible] [illegible] to require renewal inside of thirty years [illegible] that in your own city a practical example has [illegible] nished ample proof of what I stated a few [illegible] ago. I did not say as Mr Smith says, two [illegible] half times in twenty years but if we take [illegible] Thompson's figures two and a half times in [illegible] years If it is twice in thirty two years or [illegible] all the fact remains the same either way [illegible] it that it is deficient or inadequate.

Another thing If a pipe of twenty-seven [illegible] in diameter and its outflow is 8 000 000 gallons [illegible] Mr Smith's lines when the same pipe on a [illegible] line will yield 10 000 000 gallons and on another [illegible] 5[illegible] 000 gallons from the same point to the [illegible] places daily why does he think it needful [illegible] the 8 000,000 gallons? And if in taking it [illegible] $120 000 more than what shall be said of [illegible] Smith's statement on Monday morning [illegible] the data from which these things are shown [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] work they ever did in their lives [illegible] T [illegible]

WROUGHT IRON PIPE

TACOMA W T, Feb 9

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

"By request of the water committee Mr Engineer Smith submits for the information of the public a statement of the discharge strength and durability of the wrought iron pipes designed for the delivery of water from Bull Run to a reservoir within the City park.

The purpose or intention of this "statement" seems to be to disabuse the public mind of the impressions caused by several correspondents of THE OREGONIAN in relation to these things, and were it not that myself and others are misstated and misrepresented in the communication of Mr Smith I would not revert to the matter spoken of. There has been far too much of this and people wish only the plain truth and nothing more and no juggling in so important a matter as the spending of one and one fifth millions of dollars In speaking of it I shall expect to give Mr Smith and his friends some of their own medicine

He says "the discharge through a section of pipe depends on the rate of fall, or grade from end to end the diameter the smoothness of the interior surface and to a small extent the angles or bends in the alignment the effect of which has been much exaggerated by some of your correspondents

Let us see how this looks Mr Smith says he uses for ... and a quarter miles a ... inch pipe from the headworks to the west bluff of Sandy river) thence to the city a 28-inch pipe If straight and clean it would flow 8,000 000 gallons daily but he concludes that its bends and irregularities would reduce it 1 per cent. or ... 000 gallons per day and that Mr Schüssler says that it will deliver 7,000 000 gallons daily

In six years the population has more than doubled being in 1880 about 17 000, and now said to be 40 000 or about the same growth as St. Paul and Minneapolis Now if this population grows only as in the past, in the six years to come, then in 1893 we shall have a population of 135 000 The ordinary consumption of water for all purposes is estimated at sixty gallons per capita At this rate we now require 2,700,000 gallons and the Portland Water company advertised in the daily papers that they pumped much more than that last year. In six years from now if the same growth shall continue our then population of 135 000 persons will require 8 100 000 gallons or in five years our population then being 111 000 will require 7,000,000 gallons daily, the figures stated by Mr Schüssler As to the sixty gallon estimate, I refer the gentlemen to Fanning's Hydraulics and Engineering The cities of Chicago and Brooklyn use about 113 gallons per capita and Washington 127 gallons. The uses for water increase in all cities faster than any adequate means of supply Now if we place the date of this climax three times as far in the future as fifteen years what shall we do about it Our money is all gone and a new supply is needed even if the pipes were as bright as a dollar In forty six years the city of Pittsburg has built its water works over five times Do the people of Portland want to do the same thing

Mr Smith adduces cases among the mining and other pipes of California, to show their probable age of usefulness and durability, and refers to the case of the North Bloomfield company of 30-inch pipe, made from No 21 iron in use for sixteen years and then gives Cunningham and Talbot his pipe of peace (whom he and his committee have been systematically trying to rob for more than a year), as endorsing his pressure pipe ideas He contemptuously refers to it as "stove pipe iron," although it was two numbers heavier than in his case cited in relation to the North Bloomfield company under pressure whereas, the facts are, we never proposed to use pressure pipes at all except at the crossing of Sandy river and to aid the pressure in it, near East Portland, and inside the limits of the cities.

"Calculated to deliver 27 000 000 gallons daily" Fellow citizens don't you think you will need it before his proposed pipe wears out"

In the published proceedings of the water committee of February 1 we find a few more words of comfort stated in relation to a recent sub-committee proceeding At a meeting on the 19th ultimo Engineer Smith reported that the service on Morrison street was due to a weak pipe on Fourth street, north of Morrison. It was of wrought iron, and would not stand the pressure from the Sixth street reservoir The pipe would have to be replaced "with cast iron." As near as I can recollect, this pipe has been in use about sixteen years, is six or seven inches in diameter, and at the present time will not stand a vertical pressure of eighty or ninety feet. No gentlemen, we do not want any wrought iron pressure pipe, where it can be avoided I think you can see that it is not necessary to wear it out to require renewal inside of thirty years and that in your own city a practical example has furnished ample proof of what I stated a few days ago. I did not say as Mr Smith says, "two and a half times in twenty years," but "if we take Mr Thompson's figures two and a half times in thirty years." If it is twice in thirty two years or not at all, the fact remains the same either way you take it, that it is inefficient or inadequate.

Another thing. If a pipe of twenty seven inches in diameter and its outflow is 8,000,000 gallons on Mr Smith's lines, when the same pipe on another line will yield 10,000 000 gallons and on another 14,- 75,000 gallons from the same point to the same places daily, why does he think it needful to take the 8,000,000 gallons? And if in taking it, it costs $150 000 more than what shall be said of it? Mr Smith's statement on Monday morning contains the data from which these things are shown, or the most of them, and if he or the committee or any of them can find it out, it will be the best year's work they ever did in their lives. LOCAL AND GENERAL.

COUNTERFEITER GETS THREE YEARS.—John Davenport, arrested at Woodburn a few days since for passing counterfeit money, was arraigned in the United States district court yesterday. He pleaded guilty, and stated in extenuation that he was physically weak and unable to find work which he could do. He acknowledged that he made the money he had passed and said he had no confederates. Judge Deady, in passing sentence, remarked that it was better for the state and the prisoner both that he should be in the penitentiary, and sentenced him to three years' imprisonment in that institution Davenport has somewhat of a criminal history He claims to be from Cincinnati, O., and says that he was a soldier, having been discharged at Vancouver barracks about five years ago, since which time he has almost constantly been confined in the Oregon penitentiary for the crime of counterfeiting coins. Once before he was convicted in the United States court, and the second time he was sent from the state circuit court. He seemed well satisfied with his sentence and evidently looks upon the penitentiary as a sort of haven of refuge, where the wicked and lazy are provided for INDIGNATION OVER A VETO.—No official act of any governor of Oregon has ever created in Portland such indignation as was expressed by people in every circle of society over Gov. Pennoyer's veto of the bill allowing the O. R. & N company to bridge the Willamette river at this place After three years of inaction the railroad company are anxious to give to the commercial interests the accommodation of terminal facilities—freight and passenger—on this side of the river to save long and tedious wagon hauls of freight up and down steep inclines and across the river to allow passengers to seat themselves in cars in the city and be carried East instead of a long and inconvenient ferry transfer, to build a bridge, a passenger depot and a freight depot and to expend two or three million dollars If the bill should fail through the governor's veto, and an indignation meeting were called, a day's notice would suffice to fill the Mechanics' pavilion with citizens eager to express approval of the bridge measure and disapproval of the governor's course.

A FOOTRACE AND A PROTEST.—Yesterday afternoon the 100 yard footrace between Dr Skinner, an Eastern sprinter, and Harry Struve, of Seattle, for $1000 a side, was run at City View park in the presence of about 150 spectators Skinner took a slight lead and held it to within a few yards of the finish, when Struve went to the front and came out at the finish from six to eight inches ahead The judges were Bob Campbell and Frank Lynch. William Ayres was referee He decided that Struve won the race, the referees being divided in their opinion. Skinner claimed that about the 80th yard Struve made a spurt and elbowed him out of the track, clearly fouling him Skinner filed a protest with the stakeholder, Frank Lynch, and the latter has not paid over the stakes About $3,000 was bet on the result, and this money is still in the hands of stakeholders, pending the hearing of the protest. The time, unofficial, is 9¾ seconds

FEED THE QUAIL.—The snow now covering the ground makes it very hard for the poor little quails to get anything to eat. Farmers throughout the state will do well to put out a little wheat in places frequented by quail to help the pretty, jaunty little fellows to live till the snow is gone. The deep snow of two years ago nearly exterminated the quail in this state, the poor little things dying by thousands and many being slaughtered around barns where they had been driven in search of something to eat. Farmers' boys should spare the pretty birds when driven by hunger to visit the barnyards. The quail is nice on toast, but his cheery whistle to his mate in the spring is one of the most pleasing of the "wood notes wild" which greet the ears of dwellers in the country Boys, help the quail in the time of their distress, and when they are plump and hearty next fall, bang it to them if you are quick enough on the trigger to shoot them on the wing.

WORKINGMEN'S VIEWS.—Said the president of a Knights of Labor assembly to an OREGONIAN reporter yesterday, "If Governor Pennoyer was to run for constable in Couch precinct to-morrow he would not get fifty votes from the workingmen He has always pretended to be our friend, but we have found out, to our sorrow that he is not looking out for us so much as he is for himself. He had a chance to do us a favor by letting the bridge bill become a law It would give plenty of laboring men steady work for the next year, and goodness knows work has been scarce enough for the past four months Every one wants the bridge and the depot, but just because Pennoyer happens to own a sawmill in the upper end of town, he stands in the way of Portland and of the workingmen. If ever he comes up again for office, the Knights of Labor will remember him in a way that he won't like."

SALTING THE TRACKS.—The street railroad companies have had hard work to keep their cars running. One line has used a ton and a half of salt a day to keep the track thawed out. There has been so little snow that the public cannot realize the trouble the companies have been put to and the amount of "salt" they have expended By the way, there are a great many people who do not understand why salt thaws snow and ice, or why it is used to mix with ice to freeze ice cream. If some one can give a brief, plain statement of the whys and wherefores in this matter in language which can be understood by people of moderate attainments, THE OREGONIAN would publish it for their benefit.

U S. CIRCUIT COURT.—Judge Deady will announce in this court, this morning, the opinion of Judge Sawyer in the case of the Noddleburn, Daniel Curtis, appellant, on the appeal of Joseph Hogg, claimant. Curtis was a sailor on board of the Noddleburn, of which Hogg is master While aloft, attending to his duties, he stepped upon a crane rope, which, being rotten, broke, and he was precipitated to the deck and broke one of the bones of his ankle, which lamed him for life. He was allowed $1500 damages by the U. S. district court here, and the master appealed the matter to the circuit court.

VALUABLE ATLAS.—The most valuable thing in the way of an advertisement ever published for gratuitous distribution has just been got out by W H Mead's Royal Route It is nothing less than Rand, McNally & Co's great world's Atlas, reduced to a pocket atlas of 191 pages There is a colored map of every country on the face of the globe, and a meaty summary of the features of each division of every country Though it is obtained without cost, the atlas is worthy of a place in any library, and shows no little enterprise on the part of the passenger department of the Chicago & Northwestern.

ARRESTED FOR LIBEL.—A sailor's boarding house runner named Kelly has been arrested on complaint of James Turk, charging him with libel It appears that an article was published in one of the papers of this city, stating that a printer named Fulton had been shanghaied aboard a vessel by Turk This false statement was furnished by Kelly Turk, instead of suing the paper which published the libel, gets after Kelly, who simply told a lie This is a new wrinkle in the libel business

DEEP SNOW.—Mr Hale, of Hale & Smith, railroad contractors, is in the city He is just down from the Cascade division He reports the snow to be twenty three feet in depth on the summit of the mountains and that fourteen feet of snow is being shoveled away to lay track on the approach to the tunnel It is evident that there will be a good chance for blockades in that section next winter

UNITED LIBERALS.—Liberty council No 8, of the Social Order of United Liberals, will be organized at Red Men's hall, Second and Salmon streets next Saturday evening at 7.30, with about sixty charter members. Intelligent ladies and gentlemen of good moral character are invited to attend that evening and become charter members, who will be admitted free.

VALENTINE SOCIAL.—The Ladies' Aid society of Calvary church will hold a Valentine sociable in the church parlors to-night. An entertaining programme, consisting of tableaux, music, etc., has been prepared, after which refreshments will be served. Admission 25 cents.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT.

An Albina Lady Killed by the Careless Discharge of a Shotgun.

A very shocking affair occurred yesterday afternoon in Albina which resulted in the death of Mrs Mary Newton, the wife of Daniel B Newton, a carpenter E W James shot and killed Mrs Newton Constable Hill being informed that a murder had been committed in Springtown at the north end of Albina immediately started for the scene When he arrived at the place he found James standing in front of his house which is one of three cottages the middle one being the dwelling of the victim and the other being occupied by a Mr, and Mrs George Armstrong at whose door the accident happened James knew Hill and said Frank I am afraid I have killed Mrs Newton they say she is dying He then broke down and began crying his nerves being completely unstrung. He gave himself up without resistance, and was brought over to the county jail, where he is at present caged

In response to a number of questions he told the following story of the heartrending accident "I am employed at the Portland flouring mills and I also take care of several beacons in the river, lighting them at night and keeping them in order About 4 o'clock this afternoon I started to attend to my beacons taking my gun, a single barreled breech loading shotgun expecting to get a few ducks of which there are a great many, in the river I passed Mrs. Newton's house and stopped at George Armstrong's he having said he would go with me, as he had done the night before. I went in the house and while waiting for him I began laughing and talking with his wife and several other people who were in the house One of them a man named Charley, a boarder at Mrs Newton's house, took up my gun and asked if it was loaded I told him yes It had two or three loads in it. He then asked me again seriously if it was loaded, and I told him no for I thought it was not. I was sitting at this time at one side of the door and getting up from the chair I said, 'Give me the gun' and turning to the door, I saw Mrs Newton who had one foot on the threshold Thinking to frighten her I leveled the gun and pulled the trigger the muzzle not being more than two feet from her breast At the report of the gun Mrs Newton fell and not knowing what I did I ran to my own house, where I staid until the constable came when I gave myself up

Mrs Newton never spoke or moved after she fell but was at once taken into her house On being examined it was found that a heavy load of duck shot had entered her left breast just above the heart tearing a great hole two inches in diameter Mrs Newton was in the habit of taking milk to the Armstrongs and had a pail of milk in her hand when the deplorable accident occurred James is a man 28 or 30 years old and has a wife and one child Mrs Newton was about 60 years old and leaves a large family, who are almost distracted over the affair.

ABOUT THE ST LOUIS BRIDGE.

PORTLAND, Feb 10

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN.

Your statements in your to-day's issue about the connection of the U. S. board of engineers with the St. Louis bridge are hardly correct, and I beg space in your widely circulated journal for some remarks concerning those statements

You say when the bridge was planned the opinion of the board was sought in regard to it. The fact is that the bridge construction was commenced in 1867 and the board of engineers was not ordered until the summer of 1873 Previous to the construction a convention of civil engineers was called to advise as to the bridge plan, their recommendation was rejected.

You say the board was cock sure that the bridge would prove a serious obstruction to navigation Had you been informed you might have added that fourteen years' actual experience of the bridge has proved that it is a serious obstruction to navigation

You say the report of the board showed a deep solicitude for the commerce of the West and the welfare of St Louis! The report does not speak of the commerce of the West, with the possible exception of a reference to the large expenditures in improving the waters above the bridge for the express purpose of allowing the largest steamers to navigate these waters. The report has little to say about St Louis' interests, but states that it considers these interests in a measure local, and of infinitely less importance than the national interests involved.

You say that the board made an adverse report against building the bridge The board did not make any report on that point, but did say that they did not feel justified in recommending any change which would involve a complete remodeling of the magnificent structure now about completed, but that they do advise the addition of a draw span 308 feet long at the east end of the bridge They recommended, for the future, that arched trusses like those at St. Louis be prohibited in bridges over navigable streams. Very truly yours, CHARLES F. POWELL

Every bridge undoubtedly, is some obstruction to navigation, and the St Louis bridge therefore cannot be an exception Nevertheless, neither the city of St Louis nor the great region of which it is the metropolis would upon any account consent to be deprived of the bridge.—ED OREGONIAN

A DECISIVE ANSWER TO THE GOVERNOR.

PORTLAND, Feb 10

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

The main objection of Gov Pennoyer to the proposed railroad bridge is "that it will render comparatively useless over 1,000 feet of the finest harbor frontage in the world."

Now a little observation will show such a consummation exists already The harbor in question is valueless for shipping purposes wharves are vacant and rotting not a single sea-going vessel is visible at the city front, and of the ninety-three ships comprising the wheat fleet of 1885-6 to February 5, not one, I believe, was loaded above the site of the proposed bridge In fact, the storage of wheat and loading of ships above the front named has been falling off for several years, until at present it is about nil

The reasons for this change are obvious All the railroads terminate near the northern part of the harbor all the wharves and warehouses for the storage of wheat and also the flour mills and steamship wharves are necessarily near the terminal and below the proposed site of the railroad bridge

The objection to the bridge on account of location of the terminal facilities of the narrow gauge at the south part of the city will also bear criticism When we consider that a bridge is nearly completed at the foot of Morrison street with a draw of only 125 feet wide surely another bridge with a draw of greater width cannot add much to the difficulties of navigation thereto

I do not desire to say much about the width of the draw in the proposed bridge, but my judgment, in the light of former experience on the river is that a draw of reasonable width adjacent to the shore so that ships can drop through if necessary would be safe for the passing of vessels at any time except when the river is at such a stage that it would be unsafe to move for any cause H. L. HOYT

THE EAST SIDE.

Statements from Mrs. Garrard and her Mother—Albina Notes.

The information published yesterday in regard to Garrard and his wife was correct in detail Yesterday morning the east side reporter found Mrs Garrard, with her parents, in Hanson's addition, and from her obtained a statement from her side of the case

MRS GARRARD'S STATEMENT.

I have been married to Garrard seven years and at the time gave him all the love a woman can give any man, and have honestly tried to do my duty as a wife and mother. But he began to abuse me soon after which he has continued without interruption all through our married life We have been living on Columbia slough about three years During that time I have left him three times—driven to do so by abuse that I could not endure The first time I left him was because he compelled me to submit to the abuse of a woman—Mrs Turner—who lived about fifty yards from our house My husband would stand by and allow this woman to apply vile epithets to me and my children and would not protect me but upheld the woman in so doing I made up my mind I could not endure this and tried to get away but had no place to go to and had to go back home Now about the

SECOND ATTEMPT TO LEAVE GARRARD

It came about in this way I had collected from a man who came to get lumber $14 This I wanted to use in buying the children some clothing and Christmas presents, but Garrard wanted this money and said the children did not need the presents I gave him $7 of the $14 and came to town I remained at the house of Mrs. Moody until that lady became alarmed lest my presence at her house would cause her trouble when I went to the Fourth street hotel, where my husband came and found me I told him I would not go with him, but finally did so upon his promise to move into a better house and treat me better But soon after we got home he began his former treatment He had long since taught the children to disrespect me, and one day I tried to correct them when

MY HUSBAND KICKED ME THREE TIMES

A man who was working at the mill, by name A Hartman, was present when this happened He has slapped me often and has made my life a burden I have as high love for my children as any mother can have and have been driven from them by a system of treatment which no woman can endure

Mrs Garrard is an intelligent woman and her statement which is entirely different from what has been heretofore given was made in a clear, straightforward manner and at the same time she evidently felt keenly her unpleasant position

HER MOTHER'S STATEMENT

Mrs Coolidge her mother said she and her husband had come up here from California for the purpose of getting their daughter that Garrard had not made provision for her support and that they were compelled to furnish her with clothing The house their daughter had been living in was worse than a barn They took her away on Tuesday and found her scantily clothed they had not taken the children because they were unable to keep them as they were poor people, did not know whether they wanted to stay in Ore, on or not but in any event they would take their daughter with them

Mr Garrard has his side of the case which is somewhat different from the above It is understood that he will make no attempt to get her back

TEAM FOUND AND DRIVER LOST.

Wednesday night a wagon load of supplies and a small team was found on Water street, near I The owner being out of sight Marshal McMillan had the team taken charge of by Billy Morgan Up to late no one has claimed the outfit. Following is a description One a small roan the other a bay horse Accompanying was a black curly dog Parties claim that a son of "old Erin" left the team standing where found, early in the morning, and proceeded to fill up with benzine extracted from rye or corn When last seen he was going up Fourth street The team was not tied and had nothing to eat or drink all day Late last night the owner of the team was found to be a man named Butler, who lives near Kelly's butte He went over the river Wednesday night in a condition of "how come you so," but it is supposed he will turn up all right and come and get his team

PROTECT THE PEOPLE—NOT THE DOCTORS.

MEDFORD Or., Feb 8

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN.

I see by your paper that our legislators have introduced many bills, of which I suppose not a few will become laws. I wish to ask some questions in regard to some of the proposed legislation

Does it not look like class legislation to make a law requiring a vendor of patent medicines to pay a license of $100 per year in order to sell the same to his neighbors, when he may not be able to sell more than $100 worth per year thereby compelling the people to go to the incorporated towns to make their purchase Would not this be an outrage on the country people and a wrong?

Does it not look as if the doctor who introduced this bill did it in the interest of his profession, and to compel the people to patronize him in his profession?

There are other bills bearing on the same principle, to wit Debarring all medical practitioners from following their profession unless they have diplomas, etc. to appoint commissioners, etc to examine them to determine whether they shall be allowed to continue the same. Who introduced and who backs these bills? I will venture to say by looking behind them you will find a doctor and a large lobby of doctors crowding and urging this class of legislation, and why? Simply in my estimation to build up a medical monopoly to say to the sellers who live all over Oregon, and far remote from the larger towns, You can no longer use your judgment as to whom you shall employ to treat yourself and family The neighbor who has been for years treating you and your family can no longer administer medicine under the law because he has no diploma you must go to the larger town and hunt up a diplomaed gentleman even if it costs the life of a member of your family Perhaps it may require ten, twenty or thirty miles travel Who asks for such a law—the people? No the doctor They are the ones that are asking for protection—not the people. If they are honest and think protection necessary why don't they introduce a bill requiring all druggists to have diplomas? There is more need of the people being protected in this than the other proposition. Argument is unnecessary on this proposition it is too plain that protection should begin there first.

Would it not be a good idea for the reformers to make a law that would make drunkenness a disqualification to practice medicine? Such a reform would meet with great favor, would it not? The people want no more class legislation. They want doctors to stand before the people on their merits, and let people choose whom they will to treat themselves and families They don't ask for a certain class of doctors to be protected neither do they want it Merit will bring patronage without the aid of the legislator If any class of doctors can't compete with all opposition let them retire from the profession and follow something else

PRO BONO PUBLICO

BUTTER MAKING.

CRESSWELL, Or., Feb 9

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

I see an article in THE WEEKLY OREGONIAN of the 4th inst to the effect that Mr J B Knapp had received a one-pound sample of butter all the way from Wisconsin by mail, and that the same color included, was equal to Oregon butter made in May or June Now it would have been some consolation to the writer at least, if we had been informed as to what stock the Wisconsin dairyman's cows consisted of as I find no difficulty in making first-class gilt-edge butter from Jersey cows in winter when well fed while the common breed, as a rule, will not color their butter in winter. Mr Knapp also states and wisely, too, that we have much yet to learn in regard to dairying here in Oregon, but he should have added right there but very little encouragement to do so, as it is well known that dairy products are below par in this state during the grass season.

The only time paying prices are obtained here is in the fall and early winter months, for as soon as grass starts in California, which generally speaking, is as early as the first of the year, prices decline on account of heavy shipments from that state. To my certain knowledge Eugenites have been greasing their throats on California butter this winter while the home product, though superior in every particular, brought the producer but twenty five cents. With both the hay and grain crop of last season short there is no money in the business at those figures We could no doubt obtain better prices by shipping to California and have it reshipped, as there seems to be a mania in this state for imported articles having in the past three months seen Chicago hams sell for eight and cents per pound while the home product was offered at ten cents On questioning the purchasers as to why he chose the Eastern in preference to the Oregon he said they were so much better but was unable to inform us in what respect. Give us a good market and Oregon will supply as good butter as any state in the Union.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE IN W T

A Letter from a Woman on the Subject.

PUGET SOUND Feb 3

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

We think that the article published in the Tuesday OREGONIAN under the above title was not a fair representation of the feelings and opinions of the people of Puget sound. That there are many women and men too who are dissatisfied and grieved over the disgrace that has befallen our territory no observing person can fail to see But we think the greater mistake is in alleging that the women of the Sound have pushed themselves into the jury Surely no one has forgotten the consternation that prevailed among the women when it first became known that since the legislature granted them the right of suffrage it also meant that they could also be required to sit on juries After considering the matter, however they saw that they neither could nor ought to enjoy the benefits of citizenship without assuming some of its attendant responsibilities and duties so when summoned they bravely took their places and helped to form the most intelligent and conscientious jury in the territory has ever had

If the system has caused domestic infelicity we deplore it with "W H P" but, no such instance has come under our observation Chief Justice Turner could not have been influenced by domestic considerations when he gave his decision in favor of a cause that is the fountain head of family troubles

Some women may have misused their franchise but this no more than thousands of men do and has nothing to do with the right of the question The time ought to be past when women are judged as a class and men as individuals For an instance there are no women so ingenuous as to conclude that if so large a body of men as composed the legislature of 1885 had no sense (as your correspondent avers) then all men must be in the same mental condition and therefore unfit to legislate

I wish also to state that there are two vexed problems of the past that have been decided The first is that the majority of women want the right of suffrage and make use of the privilege The second is that they do not vote just as their husbands and fathers direct, as any candidate will tell you A. M.

THE VALIDITY OF A DEED

COLTON, W T, Feb, 5

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Please answer the following through the columns of your valuable paper I have a deed commencing thus "This indenture made the 24th day of August, 1885, witnesseth that etc Further on in witness whereof the said parties of the first part have hereunto set their hands and seals the day and year first above written, which is of course the 24th day of August, 1885 Now we turn the sheet over to the notary public's certificate, and read as follows "This certifies that on this 30th day of December, 1885, before me the undersigned, a notary public in and for the said county and territory, personally appeared the within named," etc.

You see from the reading of the certificate it would appear that the instrument was made and executed on the 30th day of December and not on the 24th day of August, as specified in the deed a little more than four months difference in the two dates

Now what I want to know is this Would it be considered a valid deed? I fear that it would not and I want your opinion in the matter in the house ending normal school legislation for this session

THE LEGISLATURE.

Summers's militia bill passed the house 32 to 22. It has a good chance in the senate and is likely to be vetoed by the governor

Cartwright's bill for a portage railroad at the cascades and the dalles passed the senate to-day, and was read the first time in the house. A motion to suspend the rules and read twice failed. A bill identical with this was introduced in the house to-day by Pomeroy.

The bill for the continuance of the immigration office was reported favorably from the special committee. There is scarcely a doubt that it will pass.

The governor to-day appointed C S Cogswell judge of Lake county, to fill a vacancy

The following bills were reported to the legislature to-day as approved by the governor Amending the charters of Eugene Sellwood Springfield, Joseph East Portland Drain and Ashland. Also the bill relating to the Baker City academy, and authorizing armories to be built at the county's expense in cities of 10 000 inhabitants.

In the senate this evening Weatherford moved to amend the apportionment bill giving Linn county four representatives instead of three, and Marion four instead of five This amendment will come up for consideration to-morrow

The Portland charter bill passed the senate to-night changed only from the draft submitted by the council committee to provide that a 10 mill tax be levied—2½ per cent for general purposes 4 mills for the fire department and 3½ mills for the police all contracts or liabilities incurred by these departments in excess of the amount received from this tax to be null and void unless authorized by the common council The council has no power to control or restrict the expenditures of these departments within the tax The section providing for a city engineer instead of superintendent of streets and city surveyor passed without objection

A H

SENATE.

SALEM Feb 10 The senate met this morning at 10 Prayer by Rev [illegible]

The courtesies of the senate were extended to John Myers

S J R No 15 by Simon directing the governor to submit a constitutional amendment increasing the salaries of the state officers and supreme judges to a vote of the people to be held the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November 188[illegible] adopted

H B No 40 by Crockett creating the county of Lee from Umatilla Wager said there was a division fever on hand in the committee rooms All a person had to do was to go before a committee and ask that a county be cut in two and it was immediately done He as a representative of Umatilla county opposed any division as it wasn't an honest division and would leave Umatilla county with a strip of land not able to support itself Wager claimed that the signatures to the petition for a division were many of them obtained through misrepresentation and that there was a misapprehension on the part of the signers as to how the line for the division was drawn An attempt was made to lobby this measure through while the people of Umatilla told him they didn't want any division. Wager submitted a remonstrance signed by sixty persons who signed the petition to the effect that they were led to do so by fraudulent representations made to them, and that they would never have signed the petition for a division had they known the exact purport of it. Many of these remonstrators were prominent people—editors physicians merchants etc.—who signed it carelessly without even reading it, and now, on looking over it they are bitterly opposed to it. Then others signed the petition because everybody else was signing it This division would leave Umatilla county with a reservation some desert land and the Northern Pacific railroad land, and would raise the tax from 20 to 30 mills The whole thing was a grudge over the location of the county seat.

Wager talked in this strain for over an hour, and was followed by Senator Chamberlin chairman of the committee on counties He said the friends of the bill had no representative on the floor but from what had come to him as a member of the committee he would favor the passage of the bill. From what he had been told this fight for a division began in 1882, and even before that. He believed the division was just, and that the people who asked for it knew what they wanted and were on the right side. Nine hundred and twenty five people signed the petition, and there were only sixty remonstrators. Mr Chamberlin said he didn't know anything about the county of Umatilla. He had never been over there but he knew the people who were asking for it were men of sense and men of means This was said to be a fight between Pendleton and Umatilla

The senate took a recess pending discussion

AFTERNOON SESSION

H B No 40 creating Lee county from Umatilla county was taken up Senator Chamberlin who had the floor at the time of the recess, in the morning session, continued his remarks He said that as others followed him he would be brief The parties who signed it were all living in the district He did not blame the people of Pendleton for opposing this division It was a matter of business and property interests were involved. Wager had said he would be willing to come here two years from now and favor a division He would like to know why he objected now

Gray said as a member of the committee, that he didn't sign the report. It was stated that all the members had signed the report he hadn't. The petition was signed by 925 persons sixty-one remonstrated and said they had signed under misapprehension and 246 had signed the first petition before a new line was made leaving some 600 on the present petition

Some more debate of a like character followed when the bill was put to a vote and failed to pass

REAPPORTIONMENT

S. B No 165 apportioning the state into senatorial and representative districts Amended that Lane have one senator instead of two and Josephine Douglas and Lane one senator jointly and Jackson one as usual instead of one and one jointly with Josephine Lake and Klamath

The amendment depriving Lane of one senator was throwing a bombshell in the democratic camp Veatch became mad, very mad and made a long and pointed speech against what he deemed such an outrage for political purposes. He like others who followed him claimed that Lane had population enough for two senators and according to the constitution should have them

Simon said he was glad the senator from Lane had a chance to disgorge himself of this speech which he had been preparing for a long time Lane had been given one and a half senators equally with Clackamas Both populations were about equal and Lane was democratic and Clackamas republican He could see no injustice in it Wasco Gilliam Crook Lake and Klamath now only had one senator Eastern Oregon had long been misrepresented also Multnomah The only trouble was that we haven't senators enough to go around

Coleman said Lane county had about 10 078 population and wanted to know why Simon didn't go according to constitutional rule and if Simon didn't know by the figures before him that Lane county was entitled to two senators He denounced it as an outrage on the constitution an outrage on the people he represented The apportionment reduced their representation one They were willing to that but not two. What is the reason of all these republican conferences It used to be a caucus but this word seemed to have become obnoxious to them Why were not the democrats invited to this conference He hoped the amendment would be voted down

Miller said the change was justice The amendment should prevail It was impossible to carry out the constitutional provisions The gentleman from Lane thought it was politics but he assured him that he didn't look upon it in that light at all There was another question higher than that—one of justice

Veatch wanted to know how it was that they were willing to give Lane county two senators until they had another one of those private republican caucuses They said there was no politics in it But there was He had had a political interest in it so had the others He charged again that it was a political move Why didn't the republicans if they wanted to do a fair thing on a question that interested the people all over the state invite the democrats to be present and not go into a room and shut themselves up He didn't know if they put the lights out or not but the proceedings were dark enough.

Siglin asked where authority was found in the constitution to put two large counties together

Miller said in the last democratic apportionment.

Siglin said there was no constitutional authority authorizing the joining of two counties or three counties when any of them had population enough for a senator for themselves Siglin admitted that if the democrats made the present apportionment in 18[illegible] it was unfair

Weatherford said the democrats did not make the apportionment in 18[illegible] as in that year John H. Mitchell was elected to the U S senate

Miller wanted to know if it was fair and just to attach Josephine county when almost every man in Josephine county was opposed to it

Watts said he didn't have any more sense than to be a republican and he was glad of it. He canvassed the apportionment, and wanted to know where the unfairness was Watts turned to the lobby and said he wanted them and everybody else to understand there was no unfairness about it

Siglin called him to order for addressing the lobby

Chandler was opposed to making a political fight out of it. He thought it was useless.

Hart, as a member of the joint committee refused to accept the amendments

Coleman referring to what Miller had said about not a man woman or child in Josephine county that wanted to be attached to Jackson county said there wasn't a man woman or child in Lane county that wanted to be attached to Josephine.

Miller wanted to know where Josephine county should go

Coleman—Go anywhere go to Coos and Curry. Lane county don't want to be attached to anything. She is able to take care of herself.

The amendment carried

EVENING SESSION

S B 69 by Gray—Changing the boundary of Clatsop county Gray explained that the north and east boundary of Clatsop county was now the channel of the Columbia river and it was a question now whether the courts had jurisdiction in crimes committed on the river outside of the channel The bill provided that the county lines be the same as the boundary of the state The bill passed

H J R No [illegible] of the session of 188[illegible] changing the time of elections by constitutional amendment from June to November concurred in.

S. B. 164 Parin Authorizing the building of a wagon toll bridge across the Willamette river at Oregon City by Eastham and others. The bridge is to be sufficiently high at the span to admit of the passage underneath of all steamers and vessels passed

H B 18 Laughlin—For relocation of the county seat of Yamhill, referred to the Yamhill senators.

H. B. 283, Wilcox—For the erection of water-works at Arlington, at a cost not to exceed $5000, passed

On motion of Simon his amendment to the Apportionment bill taking one senator away from Lane county and creating a joint senatorial district of Josephine, Lane and Douglas, was reconsidered. Mr Simon said he saw there was considerable feeling in the matter He then moved to withdraw the amendment carried

H B No 101 creating the county of Harney counties committee

S B No 172, Simon the Portland charter bill passed

S B No 168 Cartwright, providing that where roads are injured or obstructed by the driving over them of stock, the owner of the stock be held responsible for the damage lost.

S B No. 173 Gray allowing the sheriff of Clatsop county 2 per cent for collecting taxes amended to include Curry county, and passed under suspension of the rules.

H B No 12 Bowditch fixing the time of holding circuit court in the First judicial district passed.

S B No 66 Siglin, authorizing county courts to use county money in opening up county roads, not to exceed three mills on the dollar passed

H B No 63, Wilcox increasing the salaries of the county judge and treasurer of Gilliam

AN EXPOSE.

How a Maine "Medical College" Turns Out Raw Students with Diplomas.

BOSTON Feb 11—The Herald claims to have detected an alleged physician named Samuel York, of Lewiston Maine in the act of selling medical diplomas and degrees and publishes an expose covering several columns of that paper The Herald's investigations were invited by the fact that some time ago one Dr James M Buzzel of Portland was arrested for an alleged abortion and a few weeks later Dr Morrill was arrested on a similar charge in Lewiston, both claiming to be graduates of the Maine Electric Medical College of Lewiston As Samuel York, whose name is first on the list of the incorporators of the college, as Dr Samuel York whose name heads a similar list in connection with the Maine Eclectic medical infirmary, and as the Very Venerable Prof York M D dean of the faculty of the Druids university of America at the state of Maine branch he had several strings to his bow Some of his co incorporators were respectable people, but the whole concern was practically managed by York. When he started his infirmary circulars were sent to charitable people all over the state announcing that the design was to found a free hospital and home for the poor, and gifts were solicited. How much was contributed is not known The Herald's representative, under the guise of a student was enabled to hear the professor conduct a quiz According to Dr York's own statement the university has 3 000 graduates Dr York cared nothing whatever about the student's knowledge of the subject mentioned in the university catalogue his sole object being to obtain the price of a diploma, giving in return the degree of an M D and also authorizing the student to preach the gospel after six hours of instruction

WHAT SENATOR NELSON THINKS OF ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.

SENATE CHAMBER ALBANY N Y April 4 188[illegible]

On the 7th of February 188[illegible] I was taken with a violent pain in the region of the kidneys. I suffered such agony that I could hardly stand up As soon as possible I applied two ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS one over each kidney, and laid down In an hour to my surprise and delight, the pain had vanished and I was well I wore the plasters for a day or two as a precaution and then removed them I have been using ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS in my family for the last ten years, and have always found them the quickest and best external remedy for colds strains and rheumatic affections From my experience I believe they are the best plasters in the world.

HENRY C. NELSON.

EXPORTS—To San Francisco per steamer State of California 7542 ctls wheat, 3985 ctls oats 408 qr 835 hf sks flour, 2150 sks middlings, 780 sks potatoes 40 sks 60 ctes onions, 505 bxs apples, [illegible] sks horseradish 6 rls leather 8 cs cassimeres, 4 cs flannels 33 sks glue stock 1 sk mohair, 2 bls hair 11 dry 12 salt hides 18 bls deer skins 25 bxs tobacco 2 cs boots and shoes 6 cs rubber boots 11 c's 6 tcs 15 bxs 16 csks 325 bbls glassware, $1 090 treasure

FREIGHTS—No new arrivals of tonnage. That now considered as fully due foots up 10 713 tons There has been no opportunity for spot business The sailings of the Argonaut, Clan Grant Raglan Castle J B Brown Snow & Burgess James Stafford and Africa for Europe, Eudora for Hong Kong and Suiltelina in ballast for Pictou leaves but four vessels in river Two of these are full and one nearly so San Francisco reports no new business for wheat although one bark loads for owners account A full quotation there for handy iron is 27s 6d

REGISTERED TONNAGE STATEMENT

In port—Loading or to load		2 738
Finished or cleared,		2 28—5 366
On way—Due February March		16 110
Due later on		17 861—33,9[illegible]1

Grace & Co's Valparaiso freight circular of December 1 reports no inquiry for wheat loading old stock being exhausted and new distant. Guano freights were inactive while for nitrate rates were weak at 28s 9d U K or 28s 9d continent. Owing to the cholera outbreak in the River Plate the governments of Chili and Peru have closed their ports to vessels sailing from Argentine ports since October 15 and from Montevideo since December 8

WHEAT—Arrivals for the week 251 tons valley and 1613 tons Walla Walla against 1167 and [illegible] tons the same week last year, and [illegible] and 1114 tons the preceding week this year The bulk of valley coming the past week has been by rail as the locks were closed until Tuesday Some was for San Francisco shipment to fill an old sale Walla Walla arrivals have been almost wholly for local account a small part being said to represent new buying

New York and Chicago are in the neighborhood of one cent lower than a week ago Foreign advices have been of easy tenor prices cabled showing some decline San Francisco dropped sharply with new and important rains While all the markets have lost something in a week past our own seems to have held up at least after a fashion Very little selling has been indulged in and of course it is not easy to quote satisfactorily Information given out mostly refers to offers of wheat and bids Plenty of Walla Walla or at least not a little is obtainable at about $1 35, which is 2½ above the range for valley and fully 2½@5c above views of buyers Some was sold to a mill at nearly the asking price paid said to be at $1 33¾ Some offered ten days ago is still unsold bids not reaching the holders idea. Valley can be more closely quoted A lot offered last week yet unsold is now offered at $1 43 the highest bid obtainable being $1 42 and that from a valley mill. At Salem the mills are paying on basis of about $1 4[illegible] here and that appears to be the milling figure throughout. Shippers talk $1 40 as an extreme and would hardly go higher for any parcel Valley lately offered at San Francisco brought out bid of $1 45 only So it will be seen that our market holds up quite well in the face of all advices and when there is absolutely no home export need. In port are two ships loading one of them practically finished. Due to arrive there is hardly more than half a dozen vessels these being provided against by holdings of flour and Walla Walla wheat

MILLSTUFF—Stocks now limited late demands having made serious inroads Few mills are running and hardly any feed is sent this way from the up valley mills Chop is not to be had nor is there likely to be any further local stock. Orders have been sent to San Francisco and will be filled at about $24 50 laid down here. Ground barley now quoted $25@27 50 oil meal $37 50 Bran jobbing at $16@17 and shorts at $18@20, Chop may be quoted $25@27 50

POTATOES Few moving new deliveries being almost nothing on account of cold weather The markets are doing better than a week ago especially for Burbanks Here shippers are paying $1 25 to $1 40, as to variety and size Small kinds in no favor San Francisco has reported sales at over $2 but that was for large Burbanks of which offerings there are about nothing. The markets appear firm with a very good undertone.

ONIONS—Recent shipments have netted good returns and the paying price here is up to $1 40. Trade light at present and market apparently in good tone

GREEN FRUIT—Good apples scarce not enough coming to meet the request Prices have advanced until 75c@$1 25 may now be quoted. Oranges range from $2 50 to $7 Sicily lemons $6 50@ limes $5 bananas $3 50

EGGS—Early in the week prices advanced to 35 @40c under light deliveries Later a heavy receipt was noted and with a weakening market the highest fell away At the close it is very light and the market is weak at 25@30c with a large stock and a promise of even lower prices

HAY—New supplies have been light for some days but dealers have had plenty of stock For best baled timothy $13 is about the obtainable extreme Poorer grades $8@12

CRIMINAL CALENDAR.

A MYSTERIOUS SHOOTING CASE

MOUNT HOLLY N J, Feb 10 A remarkable case of attempted suicide or murder has come to light here Mary C Anderson a handsome young woman about [illegible] years of age enjoying a good reputation left her home on Monday On Tuesday morning, she was found in the outskirts of town with a bullet hole in her head She was removed to her home where she now lies in a dying condition She has been unconscious ever since and could therefore make no statement as to the shooting A revolver was found on the ground about 160 yards from her one chamber being empty This revolver proved to be the property of her cousin Barclay Peake who maintained close friendship with her Peake was arrested on Tuesday and stoutly denied his guilt and intimated that the girl committed suicide At the preliminary examination it was proved they were out walking together in the locality where the girl was found Peake was committed to await the result of the girl's injuries

A special to the Times from Mount Holly N J late to-night says that Miss Anderson had recovered consciousness and had told her story of the affair She asserts that Barclay Peake and herself were taking a stroll through the neighborhood when he made improper propositions to her and after she had strenuously resisted his advances he drew his revolver and shot her through the head The young lady is still alive but slight hope is entertained for her recovery

A MOTHER'S HORRIBLE CRIME.

HARTFORD Conn Feb 10—A few days ago a young woman named Rose Daly went to West Suffield from East Granby, where she had been living as a servant, to visit a family named Burns In the temporary absence of Mrs. Burns the girl is said to have given birth to an illegitimate child whose life she then sacrificed As the facts are related the mother arose and taking her offspring went to an out house walking over a snowy patch in her stocking feet and attempted to strangle it. Failing in this she went back to the house, and with a knife cut off the infant's head and put it in the stove while she took the mutilated body down in the cellar where she left it. Mrs Burns returning soon afterwards discovered, by an offensive smell that something was wrong and opening the stove was shocked by seeing the babe's head in the fire She snatched it out, crisp and blackened on one side The wretched mother's recovery is considered doubtful

THE NAVAJO RESERVATION TRAGEDY

DENVER, Feb 10—News Albuquerque, N M special Further particulars from Monday's bloody tragedy on the Navajo reservation in which three white men and two Indians were killed state that everything is as quiet as usual Reports show that the Indians were not much to blame as the white men who made the attack should have stated their grievances to the Indian agent instead of taking the law in their own hands The two men who accompanied the deputy to make the arrest of the accused horse thieves were trilling and bitterly hated by the Indians for very good reasons and they were not slow in taking advantage of the situation The Navajoes are imposed on by this class of men and it is because of this that a powerful tribe is likely to take to the warpath.

A WOUNDED THIEF DROWNED

BOUNDBROOK, N J Feb 10—Daring thieves entered the postoffice here last night. They were discovered by the railroad agent and he at once opened fire on them. One thief was shot but he managed to get to the Raritan river where he jumped in, hoping to escape by swimming to the opposite side. Loss of blood weakened him shortly and the icy water numbed him When but a few feet from shore he sank with a despairing cry and was drowned. The other thief made a desperate struggle for freedom but was overpowered and taken into custody, The robbers were members of the same gang who entered the Jersey City postoffice a few days ago bound the watchman and janitor and tried to rob the safe

A COLD-BLOODED MURDERER ARRESTED

FORT WAYNE Feb 10—A special to the Gazette says Joseph Plew a farm hand was arrested to-day for the murder of the entire Denham family near Warsaw the details of which were described yesterday He is in jail at Warsaw and the neighbors of the murdered family threaten to lynch him Denham's pocket book and $80 in money were found in Plew's pocket He was employed by Denham and two weeks ago they quarreled and Plew was discharged. When he left he threatened to get even with Denham. A part of Denham's scalp was found trampled on in the mud which disproves the theory of suicide Mrs Denham is growing stronger but is still unconscious Denham and his child were buried in one grave to day

A YOUNG MAN'S CRIME

NEW YORK Feb 10—Otto White 22 years old to-night went to the residence of his step mother Elizabeth White for the purpose of killing her A servant named Louisa Wolf opened the door in response to White's ring and as she did so he fired a bullet through her head and she sank dead on the carpet Mrs White who had retired with her children ran to the door and her step-son fired a second time the bullet entering the cheek of his step-mother Then young White fled and has not yet been arrested White's father died about three months ago leaving his entire effects to his wife This angered the son and he has several times threatened to kill his step mother

BLACK WOLF.

Or Black Leprosy is a disease which is considered curable but it has yielded to the curative properties of SWIFT'S SPECIFIC—now known all over the world as S S S Mrs Bailey of West Somerville Mass near Boston, was attacked several years ago with this hideous black eruption and was treated by the best medical talent who could only say that the disease was a species of

and consequently incurable It is impossible to describe her sufferings Her body from the crown of her head to the soles of her feet was a mass of decay masses of flesh rotting off and leaving great cavities Her fingers festered and three or four nails dropped off at one time Her limbs contracted by the fearful ulceration, and for several years she did not leave her bed Her weight was reduced from 125 to 60 lbs Perhaps some faint idea of her condition can be gleaned from the fact that three pounds of Cosmoline or ointment were used per week in dressing her sores Finally the physicians acknowledged their defeat by this Black Wolf and commended the sufferer to her all wise Creator

Her husband hearing wonderful reports of the use of SWIFT'S SPECIFIC (S S S), prevailed on her to try it as a last resort She began its use under protest but soon found that her system was being relieved of the poison as the sores assumed a red and healthy color as though the blood was becoming pure and active Mrs Bailey continued the S S S until last February every sore was healed she discarded chair and crutches and was for the first time in [illegible] years a well woman Her husband Mr C A Bailey is in business at 17¾ Blackstone street [illegible] will take pleasure in giving the details of this wonderful cure Send to us for Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free
